SB 1123

January 16, 2004

SUMMARY OF BILL: Provides for the Department of Safety to deny an application for a handgun carry permit when the background check reveals that the applicant has been charged with a crime for which, if convicted, such applicant would be ineligible for a permit and there has been no final disposition of the case or it is not noted. Specifies permit can be approved if applicant provides written notice from the court indicating no final disposition information is available.

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT:

MINIMAL

Provisions of the bill reflect current practice as the department already denies the issuance of a permit under these circumstances and reverses such denial as provided in the bill.
